DIVISION OF NURSING EDUCATION

The Division of Nursing Education at Roxbury Community College was established in 1987. The goal of the program is to serve the community with quality education for a rewarding career in the nursing profession. The course of study at RCC leads to an Associate in Science degree. Graduates are eligible to take the required NCLEX-RN examination to become licensed as a Registered Nurse.

The diverse backgrounds of students and faculty contribute to the uniqueness of RCC's Nursing Program. The program admits only 40 students per year so that the faculty-student ratio is small, about 1:8. In addition, Roxbury Community College attracts a balance of both male and female students to its nursing program. The College is committed to diversifying Boston's nursing force by providing a well-rounded clinical and academic program. RCC has clinical affiliations with some of the top health care facilities in Boston, including Arbour Psychiatric Hospital, Boston Medical Center, Brigham & Women's Hospital, Jewish Memorial Hospital and Rehabilitation Center, Lemuel Shattuck Hospital, Massachusetts General Hospital, Planned Parenthood/Brookline, Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital, West Roxbury VA Hospital and Youville Hospital and Rehabilitation Center.

ABOUT THE KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Phyllis S. Moore, D.N.Sc., R.N., C.S.

Phyllis Moore began her career in nursing after obtaining a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from the University of Michigan and later earned a Doctor of Nursing Science from Boston University.

Dr. Moore has been an active member in all spheres of the nursing profession including teaching, practice and research. She is presently Professor of Nursing at Simmons College. She is also a Research Consultant to Share Zedek Medical Center in Jerusalem, Israel.

As a Registered Nurse, Dr. Moore specialized in psychiatric nursing. She has been in the academic arena of nursing for many years. Prior to coming to Simmons College, she served as a faculty member at both Yale University and Boston University. Dr. Moore is an ardent proponent of nursing research to enhance the professionalism of nursing.

Her commitment to nursing is evident in all aspects of her life. She is an active member of numerous professional nursing organizations. Most noteworthy is that she was the past President of the Massachusetts Nurse's Association from 1985-1987. Currently, she is the President of Massachusetts Nurse's Foundation, an organization dedicated to providing educational scholarships to worthy students.

Dr. Moore has served as a nursing consultant to many organizations such as the Massachusetts State Board of Nursing and the Department of Mental Health.

Dr. Moore also serves on numerous advisory and community associations. She is presently a member of the Nursing Advisory Committee at Roxbury Community College. She has published over thirty research articles with her latest entitled "Incidence and Risk Factors of Suicidal/ Self Destructive Behavior in Young Children K-8".

Dr. Moore has received many Honors and Awards with the latest being the Award of Gratitude, Choose Nursing from Beth Israel Hospital in 1996. Dr. Moore has presented at least 56 presentations at professional conferences and workshops for nurses.

It has been our good fortune to have been able to count Phyllis Moore as both friend and ardent supporter of this nursing program for many years.
